

Morey Gross 1915 - 2008

Morey was born in Chicago, IL but spent most of his school years in Gary, IN. His education in medicine at the U. of Indiana came to an unexpected end after his father's death when Morey took over his dad's business, dealing with wholesale heating and plumbing supplies. After following his grown sons to the Bay Area to retire, he proceeded to buy and operate nine Midas Muffler shops. He and Claire Peterson had been friends for many years, combining their households a dozen years ago after their respective spouses had died. They did a great deal of traveling together, especially on cruises and river trips. They also explored the southern part of the US. Morey was a collector of art objects which were displayed in their apartment in the Manor.

Morey had three sons and two grandsons, some of whom live in the Bay area.
