

Jessie McGuire
Sept. 25, 1922 - Dec.. 27, 2007

Jessie was born in Antioch, CA, and grew up in Oakley. She became a registered nurse and spent six months working in Stockton before enlisting in the Army in WWII. She was stationed at Dibble Hospital in Menlo Park and at the Presidio in San Francisco. She worked as an operating room nurse and also rode cross country hospital trains. She met her husband, Bob, while she was in the Army and they were married after her discharge in 1946. They moved to Belmont where they raised two daughters. Jessie worked as a school nurse, Girl Scout camp nurse and visiting nurse while raising her family.

They moved to Saratoga in 1960 and Jessie became a real estate agent and later joined Bob in his business venture, McGuire & Juvet, inc. They owned a place at Lake Tahoe where they enjoyed skiing, and later a place in Hawaii. Jessie played tennis until she was 80. She also enjoyed swimming, bridge, gardening and travel. They moved to SRC in 2005.

They have two granddaughters and two great grandsons.
