

Keith Bardin 3-22-1932 to 11-5-2019

Keith is a native Californian. He left his hometown, Fresno, at age seven and moved to Compton in Southern California where, in time, he attended Junior College before transferring to Cal Tech where he later earned his PhD in Nuclear Physics. He met Tsing and married her while he was working as a Post Doctoral Fellow at Columbia University, NY.

Subsequently, Keith spent most of his career at Lockheed, Palo Alto, where he worked on a variety of problem-solving projects involving sophisticated instrumentation issues. He has a keen interest in digital photography and computational physics, has been referred to as a "Mac-Nerd", and also has an ardent interest in music.
