

Lois McCahon Loftus
September 14, 1924 to July 22, 2018

Lois was born in Colorado, on the western slopes of the Rocky Mountains. She studied business at Denver U. for two years and worked in Denver until 1945 when she moved to San Francisco, where she met her first husband. They lived in Belmont, raised five children, built a house in Pescadero and started a real estate business in Half Moon Bay. He was lured in a boating accident in 1972.

Lois met Don, a widower with four children, and married him in 1976. They honeymooned in Spain and traveled worldwide. He worked for Western Pacific Railroad which merged with Union Pacific, and retired in 1982. They moved to SRC in 2015 and Don died March 10, 2009.

Lois has been active in local politics as well as real estate from which she retired in 1985. She still belongs to the Pescadero Community Church where the memorial service for Don was held. She has nine grandchildren and two great grands.

Lois has moved to Assisted Living.
