

ROSEMARIE COKASH
5/24/1932 to 5/10/2022

Rosemarie grew up in Medford, MA and met her late husband Bill while in high school there. She attended Burdette Business College in Boston while working at the Boston Edison Electric Company. In 1954 she and Bill were married while he was serving in the 8th Air Force during the Korean War. They lived in Fort Worth, TX.

After moving back to Massachusetts she became a full time homemaker and mother of three children. Later, as operations officer of a large insurance company consortium, Bill and his family lived in many parts of the U.S. including Arlington Heights, IL and Belmont, CA. They finally settled here in Saratoga in 1977.

Rosemarie and Bill traveled widely; Florence, Italy and Victoria, B.C. are her favorites. Rosemarie's vivacious personality has led to her being given the nickname "Bubbles" by some of her new friends here at SRC.
